Special Considerations: Accommodations will be made for at-risk students, including students who have IEP plans, 504 plans, and who have been identified for alternative education programming. This could include increased in-person days ahead of other students. Conversely, the School Department will provide accommodations for students who are determined to be medically or socially/emotionally fragile by a professional and so may not be able to attend live instruction when other students are able. The School Department will create ways to provide in-person support to lower risk factors that come with isolation, and ways to flex remote learning for other students throughout the year regardless of the learning model/level being implemented for the general student population.
