Good afternoon,

In his daily press conference today, Ohio Governor Mike DeWine made no new changes affecting school districts. Regardless of what changes could occur, online instruction will continue.

That online instruction with our students began today. I was very pleased with the efficiency in which students and teachers were able to accomplish lessons. Very few issues arose and those that did have been addressed. Teachers will continue to be available via email between the hours of 8 am and 3 pm Monday - Friday. You may also contact your child's building by phone during these hours.

I want to complement our staff. As I walked through buildings again today, I could hear staff recording lessons for students, supporting each other and brainstorming creative approaches to online instruction. Our primary goal remains the same - to provide high quality education to our students.

Some good news to report, Shawnee has received approval to serve grab-and-go style lunches to our students beginning next week. Additional details will be made available in the coming days.
