Legal custody is not required to enroll a student. A person seeking to enroll a student who is not the legal guardian of the child will need to supply legal documentation and/or complete district forms to determine that the student legally resides in the district, and therefore not required to be charged tuition to attend Paw Paw School District #271. This process also will protect the safety of a minor when custody is of concern. The school district will require documentation to be completed if a person seeking to enroll a student is not the adoptive parent, legal guardian, or designated custodial parent of a child as the result of a divorce, separation or action taken by a court of law or legal agency. Once residency has been verified enrollment into classes will then begin.

Policy on the Acceptable and Appropriate Use Of Instructional and Administrative Technology (Acceptable use Policy)

"The instructional technology, administrative technology, and all associated computer hardware, computer software network and information technology installed or used in the Paw Paw CUSD #271 is intended to support the educational goals of the School District. Any use of this technology that does not support the District's goals is not acceptable."

I. Purpose:

Paw Paw CUSD #271 is a publicly funded educational institution, and as such, is responsible to the taxpayers and funding organizations for the equipment, property, facilities, services and supplies purchased, as well as for use of the equipment, property, facilities, services and supplies purchased. Computers, networking equipment, software, and related equipment are relatively recent additions to the core expenses for schools and often represent the focus of new issues regarding the appropriate and acceptable use. This policy outlines how the Instructional and Administrative Technology in the District should be used.

II. Objective:

This policy is intended to clarify and simplify the intended, acceptable and appropriate use of technology in the Paw Paw CUSD #271. Existing School and District Policies outline enforcement and penalties related to unacceptable behavior. This policy is not intended to supersede any existing policies; rather, it is intended to enhance the scope of existing policies to encompass technology and related issues.

III. Need:

Computers and networks enable and enhance communication in local and extended domains. This increased ability to communicate ideas can be offensive to the users within our District as well as to others beyond our District. The computers and networking equipment are also quite expensive relative to other items typically found in classrooms, and are often quite easy to damage if not handled properly. In order to ensure that students, faculty and staff use the instructional and administrative technology appropriately, the District has developed this Acceptable Use Policy (AUP). This policy is made public on the District and School Web pages, is provided to each student, is provided to parents and legal guardians, and the essential policy is present to each user during the login process. A copy of each student's acknowledgement of the AUP is kept on file for each school year.

IV. Description:

In order to simplify this policy, please understand the following statements:

1. Foul, vulgar and offensive language is not appropriate and not acceptable in the School District.
2. Activities that are illegal in real life are likewise illegal when using computers and networks.

3. Activities supporting commercial or personal gain, advertisement, or lobbying that are not in support of the District's educational goals are not appropriate and not acceptable.
4. Activities that disrupt the learning environment of others are not appropriate and not acceptable.
5. Existing District and School policies regarding appropriate and acceptable behavior extend to this policy covering the use of technology.
6. The policy as outlined is the foundation for acceptable and appropriate use of technology, and is extended by common sense as defined by the Superintendent, School Principals, School Administrators, Teachers, as well as District and School Staff.

V. Practices:

1. All users are issued credentials – username and password – used to authenticate network access. These credentials are for the sole use of that user only and are the responsibility of the user only. Any inappropriate or unacceptable activity attributed to the use of a specific user's account will be the responsibility of that user only. Keep your passwords private and change them regularly.
2. Computer and networking resources are shared with other students, faculty and staff in the District. Please be considerate of others in your use of these resources.
3. We do not control information available on the Internet beyond that of our own servers. If you accidentally encounter information that is offensive or could be considered offensive by you or others, notify your teacher immediately to minimize the impact of the offensive information.
4. Do not attempt to gain unauthorized access to files and data on our networks or on other networks.
5. Be aware of and abide by Copyright laws pertaining to information access through our networks. Making personal copies of published works without permission is illegal, regardless of the medium used to access the published works. There are generally accepted Copyright exceptions for "fair use" or educational purpose that will allow some use of copyrighted material in support of our educational goals. If you have questions concerning specific Copyrights or "fair use," please consult with a librarian, your teachers or the technology director.
6. Protect our privacy and the privacy of others while using our networks. If you encounter an interactive Web site on the Internet, please be aware that the information you provide can and likely will be used by others for purposes that you cannot control. Unless it is absolutely necessary, do not provide home addresses or phone numbers to others on the Internet. Also, unless you have entered into a significant contract with a known business or organization and understand the risks, do not give anyone your Social Security Account Number.
