DISTANCE LEARNING OPTION FORM

Lebanon Public Schools will be returning to In Person Learning on August 31, 2020. Families are provided with the option to continue with Distance Learning, rather than in person, if they choose to do so. Distance Learning is temporary remote learning in lieu of in-person instruction. The instruction will be provided by Lebanon Public Schools teachers and support staff and the children remain enrolled in the Lebanon Public Schools. The program provided to students who opt to continue with remote instruction will receive instruction that matches as best as possible the instruction children receive who report for in school learning. However, because these children will not be in the classroom, the experience will vary. The instructional hours may not match 1:1 with in school learning. At this time our model (subject to change) will include viewing livestreamed classes, participating in live instruction via online platform, e.g. Google Classroom or similar application, and completion of the same assignments and lesson activities as the students in the classroom as appropriate. Assignments and lesson activities may be altered for remote learning. Students are expected to attend remote classes and complete required work and assessments just as if they were attending school in person. Students must be supervised by an adult in the home. Student work will be graded and attendance will be taken. Students learning remotely will be required to take all state required assessments. Students cannot opt to mix in-person and remote learning by the day or week or month. Students opting for distance learning may, participate in extracurricular sports and activities, as available, and by providing their own transportation.

Distance Learning is NOT Homeschooling. Parents opting to homeschool their children provide an educational program of their own design and implementation. Homeschooled children are withdrawn from the Lebanon Public Schools.
