Teaming Up for Success

Our current Superintendent, Mr. Tommy Tyler, came into the District with the focus of a "Team Building" approach.

"We are eyeing an era where our graduates will need the capacity to be lifelong learners. I feel that the challenge of ensuring every student has the basic skills needed to achieve their dreams and aspirations for their future is more complicated and demanding than ever before, because of the speed at which changes are occurring in all aspects of our society. The economy is changing, and the impact of change from so many external sources outside of our control makes dealing with change one of the biggest obstacles to finding success for our children.

Teaming Up For Success is essential if we are going to create goals and vision that will support children's dreams for their future. One of the important things I have noticed in the Crossett community is the willingness of parents, community business and the leaders is to do whatever it takes to ensure our kids still have access to the American Dream. We live in a great community, the state is making tremendous gains, and the United States still is the greatest country in the world. All of this is possible if we really do Team Up For the Success of our kids.

Crossett School District Forms Leadership Team

In October, 2012, the School District formed a Leadership Team, for the purpose of developing a District-wide plan to address needs that had been expressed by the School Board Members, Administrators, Staff and community.

The team is comprised of stakeholders from the community, school, parents and administrators. The team meets monthly to work together in creating short and long term goals for a better Crossett School District.
