

Studies show that PAT can have a positive impact on families. Evaluations have found:

PAT children have significantly better language, problem-solving, and social development at age 3.

Children continue to do better in the early elementary grades as evidenced by higher scores on standardized reading and math tests.

Parents are more confident in their parenting skills and knowledge and they read more to their children.

Parents stay more involved in their child's education, both at school and at home.

Schools benefit because developmental delays in children can be identified and resolved early.

Parents as Teachers

Parents as Teachers

Parents as Teachers is a FREE voluntary program designed to provide practical, timely information to all families who have a child under the age of six who live in USD 308, USD 309, or USD 313.

PARENTS AS TEACHERS

Vision

All children will learn, grow and develop to realize their full potential.

Mission

To provide the information, support and encouragement parents need to help their child develop optimally during the crucial early years of life.

Program Goals

Increase parent knowledge of early childhood development and improve parenting practices.

Provide early detection of developmental delays and health issues.

Increase children's school readiness and school success.

As a PAT family, you receive:

Home Visits with nationally certified Parent Educators trained in early childhood development:

Scheduled once a month during days/evenings

Addressing parenting concerns

Individualized for both parent and child

Provide ideas for age-appropriate parent/child activities.

Group Meetings/Playgroups offer opportunities for parents to learn more about parenting issues and child development:

Offered during days and evenings

Provide parent/child activity sessions

Parents learn how to observe their child with other children

Screenings, offered as a source of information about a child's developmental level, are provided:

Language, social and motor skills

Periodic monitoring of developmental progress

Health, hearing, and vision checks.

Resource Network is provided to help families identify and connect with needed resources:

Parent Educators help families overcome barriers to accessing services.
