Keeping the Promise

Teaching and Learning for All

REMOTE LEARNING PARENT/STUDENT ACKNOWLEDGMENT

In the event that on-site instruction must pivot to remote learning it is important that parents, teachers and students continue to work together for the success of student learning.

As a Parent/Guardian I understand:

- New learning will occur and attendance will be taken during remote learning. It is possible for a student to fail if work is not completed and/or assessments receive a failing grade.
- If needed, I will contact the teacher or school office if my child is having trouble with his/her device, internet, or logging into platforms such as Google Classroom.
- If my child is sick and unavailable to complete assignments, I need to contact the school office.
- Teachers will respond to parent emails within one school day. Emails sent during the weekend may not be replied to until the end of the following Monday.
- It is recommended to monitor my child's learning by checking Google Classroom for lessons and assignments as well as checking HAC for attendance and grades.

As a Student I understand:

- During remote learning, grades will be earned and based on new learning.
- Attendance will be taken in each class.
- It is my responsibility to log-in and review Google Classroom and email daily.
- I must attend live lessons in Google Meet unless unable to do so due to illness or internet issues. I need to contact my teacher if I am unable to do so.
- I am responsible for make-up videos, assignments, etc. missed within school guidelines: A day to make up work for a day missed.
- I will contact my teacher as needed for additional assistance with digital lessons or issues with technology/device.
- I will follow behavioral expectations and norms outlined in the school handbook and established in each classroom during remote learning.
- I will display appropriate behavior for Google Meets (mic turned off, etc)
- I will demonstrate academic honesty when submitting work. Ex: I will not submit another student's work or cheat during assessments.
- It is my responsibility to complete lessons and any attendance lessons by 8 a.m. the following school day.
