- What makes this program unique?

Pawnee ISD special education programs tailor learning to address each child's unique combination of needs. Adaptations are made to allow kids to meet age-appropriate educational goals.

They offer a wide range of approaches and services. This may include, but not limited to, smaller classes, individualized learning, one-on-one support, self-contained classrooms, resource rooms, and learning aids. Pawnee is unique in that their small population allows for more one on one support and opportunities for learning with non-disabled peers.

- What skills do your students develop after being a part of your program?

Children with special needs learn self- advocacy and independence through our program. Teachers and staff are dedicated to provide instruction and support to the student's individual goals and objectives. Our children are also provided social skills instruction embedded throughout their day. Students will acquire skill acquisition through support, training, and diverse teaching methods.
