Congratulations to the Class of 2022

Dr. Steiner:

At Northern Cass, we believe every learner can change the world; therefore, we will provide a world class education. To be able to do this, we follow our Collective Commitments which guide the daily behavior of educators. These commitments are ‘what’ we do at Northern Cass. We are dedicated and passionate about relationships, teaching & learning, self-reflection, acknowledging greatness, and service to the Northern Cass community. We are driven toward continuous improvement. Our Northern Cass values are we will commit to purposefully build trust, develop authentic relationships, and engage in innovative practices which will empower learners to be choice ready.

A Few Things to Celebrate

1. Dual Credit Update
 - a. 23 Students registered for DC in the fall semester
 - b. 71 students registered for DC this spring semester
 - c. 75 credit hours were taken in the fall semester
 - d. 413 credit hours were taken this spring semester
 - e. Total cost $42,065.60
 - f. Total savings $98,478.40

2. On Friday, April 29th, the Board of Education held a special meeting. During this meeting, an ad hoc committee was created which will begin identifying an organization to engage in a formal climate/culture survey of all employees. This is viewed as an opportunity to evaluate the work we have been doing as a district as well as plan for a future which is filled with uncertainty due to the significant losses in educators leaving the field (on a national level). We will be sharing out the results when we receive our final reports (June).

3. Changes in Staffing for Next Year
 - a. Mrs. Beth Head will be transitioning to Level 8 middle school science (3 periods) and personalized learning coaching for the remainder of her day.
 - b. Mr. Christian Thompson will be transitioning to high school science.
 - c. Mr. Shawn Krinke will be transitioning to a Literacy Specialist with a focus at the secondary level. This is a grant-funded position.

Reflection

Over the course of the past few weeks, we have seen multiple suicides both locally and nationally. As many of you know, I lost my nephew to suicide this past fall. As I hear about these tragic events, I have learned something. Life is precious and each day must be lived accordingly. It is disappointing when it takes a tragedy for us to appreciate life. For this newsletter, I write about three lessons I learned. This is not profound or new. In all reality, the purpose is to remind you of why we are here...not here at Northern Cass, but here in general.

1. Live for the present. We must be thankful for where we are and not focus on where we were or where we hope to be. Please do not focus on areas where you have fallen short but realize you have done remarkable things. You have made a positive difference in the lives of many. Dwelling in the past and hoping for a better future accomplishes little. In a book study, educators discussed forgiving and forgetting the mistakes of others. Each participant agreed holding a grudge is never beneficial. It was said ‘each day is a new beginning’. I agree. The sun comes up each morning and with that you have a chance to start over and live yet again in the present.
2. It really isn't that big of a deal. You have heard the saying ‘don't sweat the small things’. I think it is okay to ‘sweat’ the small things. It is not okay to ‘sweat’ them into a big thing. How many little things do you allow to control your life? Have you ever gotten upset and allowed it to ruin the weekend? Was it worth it? Too often, we make mountains out of mole hills. We are too often reactive. In a previous newsletter, I shared the concept of WIN (What's Important Now). If we allow the little things to control us, we never truly focus on those things that make a difference. I'm willing to admit I do this too much. It affects my mood, but more importantly affects my effectiveness as a father, husband, and administrator. We can respect the little things but remember they are just that...little.
3. Different is good. In our society, too many attack different when we should embrace it. We see different as a flaw when it should be seen as an asset. We all bring a uniqueness to the world. This should be the focus. As a large team (and that is what we are), our unique skill sets give us the opportunity to be great. Where one of us is weak in an area, another is strong. Where one of us fails, another achieves. Embracing difference will allow us to grow as individuals.

My challenge for the summer is to self-reflect on these three lessons. If we can make these lessons a fundamental part of our lives, we will be successful...effective...and most importantly...happy.

Last Words: Advice from the Senior Class

For their social media Senior Spotlights, seniors were asked to give advice to underclassmen. Here is what they had to say.

ACADEMICS:

Senior year comes faster than you think, take challenging classes, and make memories.

Do as many college classes as possible.

Stay on top of your schoolwork and don't get behind.

Take your history classes freshman year.

DON'T DO ONLINE SCHOOL

Don't excessively stress about schoolwork or let it consume every aspect of your life. Try to take as many college credits as you can keep up with in high school because they are cheaper than when you're in college.

Work hard the first three years, so you can enjoy your senior year, and take a lot of dual credit courses.

Do a variety of classes to find what your interests would be. It is a lot easier to apply to colleges or find a job if you know what you like and dislike in advance.

Don't give up when school gets difficult. Always try your best.

Find something you like and get good at it.

Work for what you love and enjoy the little moments

STUDYING & HOMEWORK:

If you just get it done, it's not that bad, so don't procrastinate too much and talk with your educators.

Study hard, take advantage of opportunities, and enjoy every moment because four years go by fast.

Don't procrastinate in high school, there are so many opportunities for you to succeed that you should take. At the same time though, make sure you enjoy your experiences and don't leave with regrets.

Don't procrastinate like I did, haha. It's not gonna be good when you get up to being a senior. I fell behind a lot this year because I got so used to procrastination. Don't procrastinate... don't fall behind... and don't fall into the drama. It's not going to help you in the long run.

Take your time on doing stuff. It's better to do it the right way than to mess up trying to do it as fast as you can just to get it done.

Start looking for scholarships very early.

Do your best.

INVOLVEMENT:

Get involved in lots of different activities, take advantage of all the opportunities and experiences during high school.

You will have way more fun in life if you aren't afraid of going out of your comfort zone and trying new things, so don't let opportunities pass you by.

Have an open mind, step out of your comfort zone, and try every new thing life throws at you because you won't regret it!!!

Soak in every moment, the all nighters, early mornings, random Road Trips. These four years will fly by... and when it's over, you can't get it back.

Take advantage of all opportunities given to you!

SPEED OF LIGHT:

Don't procrastinate & take in every moment. It really does go by really fast.

Make sure to appreciate where you're at now, because these four years feel like almost no time has even passed.

Take it one day at a time; it goes a lot quicker than it seems.

Don't take anything for granted, time goes by fast.

Time goes by really fast, so don't procrastinate!!

Enjoy high school because life comes fast.

It goes by really fast; enjoy it while you can!

Don't take anything for granted, it flies by.

ENCOURAGEMENT:

Give yourself a break, you're achieving so much and it's important to take time for yourself.

Have fun with your friends and try to make a new memory every day.

Enjoy high school while you can, but don't be afraid of the future because there is so much for you to experience.

Try not to put too much pressure on yourself and try not to compare yourself to others.

Follow your dreams, go back to bed.

Welcome!

A group of volunteers from Northern Cass helped clean up the Red River Zoo. They worked hard to sweep the sidewalks, pick up garbage along the fence line, wipe down the benches and signs, and clean the windows to the exhibits. After all their hard work, they were able to spend some time touring the zoo and seeing their favorite animals.

On April 23, four Northern Cass Destination Imagination teams presented their solutions virtually in the Minnesota-North Dakota Affiliate Tournament. Our second grade Rising Stars, The Cool Kids, took on the Early Learning Challenge, Monster Manners. Our "Technical Trio" of Level 4 learners created two vehicles that maneuvered through obstacles in the Technical Challenge, Daring Escape. Level 3 learners, Jazzy G, built a structure that could both roll down a ramp and hold weight for score in the Engineering Challenge, Roll With It. Our high school team, Breaking the Loop, changed up their habits and did the Improvisation Challenge, Festival Frenzy. All teams successfully completed their Instant Challenges and the tournament. We even had several DI Alumni return to their roots to appraise the Rising Stars challenges! (Once a DI kid, always a DI kid.) Breaking the Loop advanced to Global Finals in Kansas City, MO, on May 21-24.

While this year is done, we are looking to the future. The 2022-2023 Challenges have been released! For more information, check our Northern Cass Destination Imagination website.

Since the Kindergarten class began using a new curriculum this year, Custodian Belinda Lawrence saw an opportunity to put the old curriculum to good use. Belinda's daughter is a librarian in Mansa, Zambia, so she sent the books halfway around the world to be enjoyed by the children there.

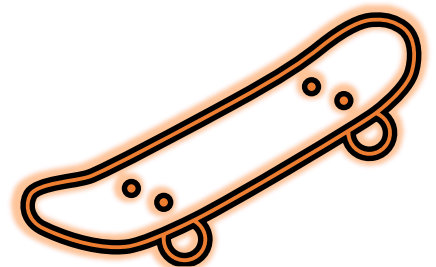

NURSE'S CORNER: Skateboards

Skateboards are very popular among children ages 5 to 14. Skateboards should never be used on surface streets. Even experienced skateboarders can fall, so learning how to fall safely can help reduce the risk of severe injuries. The following are recommendations on how to fall correctly:

- When losing your balance, crouch down on the skateboard so you have a shorter distance to fall.
- Try to land on fleshy parts of your body when falling.
- Try to roll as you fall, which prevents your arms from absorbing all the force.
- Try to relax, rather than remaining stiff when falling.

Other safety precautions to take when skateboarding include the following:

- Wear protective gear, such as helmets, padding for wrists, elbows and knees, and closed-toe and slip-resistant shoes.
- Frequently check the skateboard for wear and tear.
- Only allow one person per skateboard.
- Do not hang onto bicycles, cars, or other vehicles while skateboarding.
- Carefully practice tricks in designated skateboarding areas.
- Avoid skateboarding in the street.
