

AMS CHALKBOARD CHATTER 9/19/16:

•MEDIA CENTER

AMS Media Center will host a Scholastic Book Fair 10/4 - 10/10. Grandparents will have the opportunity to shop with grandchild(ren) on October 7th. Watch for a book fair flier coming soon!

•PROJECT LEAD THE WAY

Students in Medical Detectives are working on foodborne illness projects. They will use their knowledge of vital signs and foodborne pathogens to diagnose mystery patients. Students will present their findings as well as what they advise for treatment after completing research.

Students in Design and Modeling will begin a project on Cerebral Palsy. Students will research and design ankle foot support. Afterwards, students will create their prototypes and then present their solutions. This project will show their understanding and ability to apply the design process.

AMS CHOIR

The 6th grade choir students celebrated Constitution Day last week with a short message from "Ben Franklin," created by the National Constitution Center. We learned a Constitution Rap to help remind us about the facts related to the constitution and our great country! Ask your 6th grade choir member to perform it for you!

•7TH GRADE TEAM

The 7th grade Honors math class has conducted its 1st ever World Wednesday in which students learn about different countries around the world. Throughout the Wednesdays of the school year, students will dive into the educational world of the topic country, learning about map skills, how to count in the country's native language, and many other exciting things!! Stay tuned for more exciting happenings on World Wednesdays!

•MRS. CODY'S CLASS

Representing Mrs. Cody's middle school class as Star Student of the Week is Joey White. Joey tries his best on a daily basis. He also helps his friends by doing kind things for them. Way to go Joey!!

Mrs. Cody's class also studied about Patriot Day and had a hands on activity with constructing their own towers with plastic cups working cooperatively together on the project.
