The North Little Rock School District provides all students with the listed services to address deficiencies found in school performance data:

- Teachers are receiving professional development in math through Cognitively Guided Instruction (CGI) which teaches methods that will enhance teaching performance and gives students opportunities to solve real-world math problems
- Reflex Math is utilized to increase math fluency
- Model technology classrooms can be found at multiple buildings across the district
- Professional Learning Communities (PLC's) and Grade Level Teams are meeting to discuss math instruction and student progress. Strategies and ideas are gained from each other through these powerful networking tools.
- More technology is being used by students and teachers
- ALL elementary schools attended professional training on improving academic rigor and how to improve it in classrooms to ensure that all students are appropriately and authentically engaged. Principals and teachers are studying academic rigor in PLC's, grade level team meetings, and administrators' meetings. Principals are having reflective conferences with teachers about improving rigor in their classrooms
- After school programs take place at Amboy Elementary, Boone Park Elementary, Glenview Elementary, Meadow Park Elementary, Ridgeroad Elementary and Seventh St. Elementary. These programs target students in need of intensive intervention in literacy and math
- Elementary teachers attended professional training in literacy this summer on phonemic awareness and phonics. Summer sessions were an overview of how the reading process develops in students. It offered methods and strategies to use with individual students or groups of students
- All students were assessed using the STAR Reading and Math Assessments. Assessment results drive instruction and assist in planning for individual needs of students
- Math Journals are used by all students in K-5
- The implementation and rollout of project based Project Lead the Way (PLTW) is occurring at every elementary school in the district. Teachers were trained during the summer by lead teachers in their buildings. Implementation is underway. Activities and lessons are integrated with science, math and reading content standards
- Grade 2 Units were developed last spring by literacy coaches and lead teachers from each school. Units are being implemented this fall
- State required Academic Improvement Plans (AIPs) and Intensive Reading Interventions (IRIs) have been developed for students who require intensive intervention in math, science and/or literacy. Parents were made aware of these plans during parent/teacher conferences. Progress monitoring of interventions will take place to determine effectiveness
- Generation Ready is in both Indian Hills and Crestwood Elementary. Focus schools are required to have an assigned school improvement specialist. Generation Ready is assisting principals and teachers at both campuses to improve classroom instruction. In each school, they are increasing the rigor and relevance to meet the differentiated needs of their students
- Credit Recovery Labs are being implemented at the high school.
- Additional course offerings are being provided, such as: ACT Prep, PLTW Computer Science & PLTW Biomedical Science
- Focus on career interest through Career Connection
- Job shadowing and exploration opportunities
- Additional partnerships with two and four year universities to offer concurrent credit
- Additional support to increase the number of National Merit Scholars: all 10th grade students take PSAT, identification of potential scholars & tutoring sessions
